A Women Bootlegger Arrested.

Conway Springs has furnished a sen sation in the nature of a woman boot-legger, in the person of Mrs. A. R. Tarbill, who was arrested Monday on the charge of bootlegging.

Mrs. Tarbill is the quast wife of 'Doc" Tarbill, the notorious Conway Springs jointist and gambier. Suspi-cion of violating the liquor law has rested upon ner for some weeks, but not until the recent arrest of her husband was she known to make a business of selling whisky on the sly. When her husband's place of business was temporarily closed while he was under arrest for running a joint Mrs. Tarbill regularly supplied her husband's patrons with whisks from capacious pockets concealed be-neath her dress. Monday a care-fully arranged plan to arrest her and confiscate what whisky could be secured, was made. A warrantenary-ing her with selling liquor contrary by Mayor C. C. Taylor and four of the city councilmen. The warrant was served by City Marshal Barnard. Mrs. Tarbill was found in her husband's place of business near the D. M. & A. depot. When arrested Mrs. Tarbill denied having any whisky on her person, but the marshal was from Missouri. He searched her clothes thoroughly but ineffectually. A search was then made of the joint and a case of malt was discovered and confiscated. Mrs. Tarbill was held on the warrant and her trial set for Otto Bixler, charged with stealing a conficated. Mrs. Tarbill was held noise, buggy and harness, waived his preliminary examination at Geuda Springs Tuesday afternoon and was bound over to the January term of district court in the sum of $500. In Thursday.

Clcero Store Burglarized.

Dailey's store at Cicero was burgiarized by some tramps Tuesday night. Four or five nundred pennies, a quan tity of apples, candy and tobacco, and an overcoat were taken. The postoffice, which is in the store, was not disturbed.

The tramps were seen walking to-wards this city about 12 o'clock that

The Wichita Star says: "A very sad accident is reported from Mulvane. C. A. Harmon and wife of Burden, Kansas, were driving through to visit some friends at Mulvane and when within two miles of Winfield, their team became frightened and rai away, throwing out the occupants. The wife had a four mouths old babe in her arms, and was thrown or to the child in falling, crushing its hear and killing it instantly. The poor mother was quite severely injured herself but this was nothing compared with her agony over the terribie death of her babe. They carried its life ex-remains to Winfield and had it sent to Mulvane by rail after being cared for by a Winfield undertaker. The child was buried from the Christian church at Mulvane Sunday after-

Will Taylor, the popular editor of the Wellington Dai'y Journal, is soon to marry a charming young lady of Milan, Kansas -Billy Bolton, Wood-ward News.

Editor Taylor, of the Journal, and Frank Fisher, of Wellington, were among the visitors in our city Sunday. -Milan Press.

The working force of the Journal have noticed for some time that there was something in Taylor's head besides brains. We presume it is only a question of time when he will go the way of Louie Smith and Art Fisher. The dignity of bachelurhood will be maintained at all hazards by John Sylva Forsyth.

Prof. Geo. C. Wakefield entered upon his duties as third assistant teacher in the County High school Tuesday morning. He is teaching the regulation six classes, some of which were made up for him. He teaches all of the history class, part of the class in English and part of the penmanship class. New furniture has been ordered for his room. Prof. Wakefield likes the new work, and will no doubt prove a valuable instructor in the County High school.

Cards are out announcing the approaching marriage of John L Sparr of this city and V. Mandane Hubbard of Wichita, to occur at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Hubbard in Wichita December 6. Mr. and Mrs. Sparr will be at home to their friends in this city after December 10.

The barn on the Peters ranch, west of South Haven, burned Saturday night. Six horses and two mules were burned alive. Two thousand bushels of oats, all the barness and other stuff in the barn were destroyed. The ourn belonged to the Mutual Lite lasurance Co. R. H. Massingill lived on the place. He and Jake Allen ward the contents of the barn. They had no insurance. The barn was insured, but it is not known for how much. The origin of the fire is un-known, but the circumstances point strongly toward incendiarism.

Pete Manan came near losing his life at the Santa Fe freight depot Monday morning while waiting for a o'clock train to depart for Dalton. He steeped on the track and was struck by the switch engine. He was knocked nearly sixty feet and his left log and side were considerably bruised. Fortunately be did not fall on the track when the engine struck him, or he would have been ground to pieces. It was dark at 6 o'clock and he did not see the switch engine, which he claims was carrying no light, when he rossed the track.

J. A. Steele, who up to a year ago resided near South Haven, returned Monday from Missouri where he had been for a year trying to induce him-self to live there. Mr. Steele has re-turned to Kansus fully determined to remain the rest of his days in the Sunflower state. His household goods are on the way here from Missouri.

J W Oliver and son, Frank, re-turned Monday afternoon from Mis-souri, where they went to look for a location. They have concluded to trust their faith in Kansas egain and will let Missouri alone. They say it is very dry in Missouri and that that state is not in it with Kansas.

J. C. Hall of Conway Springs, lost a tour and hugey in the fire which des-troyed Estes & Hawkins' livery barn at Caldwell Wednesday night. He was on his way home with his wife from Okinhoma. His loss is $175.
